Animal mauled girl, but was it a coyote?

WESTERNERS are wondering whether the animal that mauled a young girl in a park in British Columbia was a coyote or a dog.

Jobless rate dips to key milestone

FOR THE FIRST TIME SINCE 2003, the unemployment rate in Canada has fallen below 7 per cent, according to Statistics Canada.

Statistics Canada said the unemployment rate fell to 6.7 per cent in April, down from 6.8 per cent in March.

HOT STUFF: Leave behind some colourful accessories

Fun in the kitchen perfect for mom

JAMI KLOET
Special to Postmedia

This Mother's Day, take charge of the cooking and tell mom to sit back and enjoy the meal. After you're done scrambling, sauteing, baking and boiling your own creations, leave one of these colourful accessories behind for your main matriarch to enjoy. Just make sure you do the dishes before you dine and dash.

Mix it up: Incorporate some colour into your mom's cooking routine with these brightly hued kitchen tools. It doesn't matter if she's whisking cake batter or scrambling eggs, these vivid accessories are sure to add some dazzle to her dishes.
Assorted Utensils, $5.99, Homesense

Fresh pick: Juice it, zest it, strain it, pour it — and serve it to your mother. With an ergonomic design that can be hand-held or used on the countertop, this brightly coloured juicer also features an integrated seed strainer and citrus zester, while the container itself is flexible for easy pouring.
Two-in-one citrus juicer, $15, Trudeau (trudeau.ca)

Fry day: If there's anybody who can handle the heat in the kitchen, it's mom. Give her a hot hue to hold onto as she fries up some fun on the stove. (And even if she burns her creation, at least her skillet is stylish.)
Skillet, $15, PC Home

Love limit: How about a limited edition casserole for your one-of-a-kind mom? Back in 1958, internationally famous designer Raymond Loewy (best known for designing the Coke bottle) created a unique shape to add to the world-renowned range of Le Creuset's cast iron casseroles. The company has released a limited number of these pieces for 2015, but hurry! There are only 80 available.
