

STAYING POWER

Diamonds, pearls, Paris? You'll fall in love with these elegant items that are as enduring as they are endearing Written + produced by Janet Gyenes

BLUE CRUSH

Lord Byron, Herman Melville, Ernest Hemingway ... they were all inspired by the temptation and tempestuous nature of the sea. Tiffany & Co. is now making waves with its haute joaillerie collection: The Art of the Sea.

The trove includes strands of cultivated Tahitian

wear

and white and golden South Sea pearls, elegant earrings shimmering with blue tourmalines, and bracelets heavy with sparkling sapphires. Our blue crush: a glam ring that features waves of diamonds suspended in 18-karat gold, crashing up against a massive tanzanite, perfectly smooth as if polished by the twin forces of sea and wind.

Not to be outshone by this tidal wave of treasures is the new collection of Tiffany CT60 watches—for men and women—which exemplify the finest in Swiss watchmaking tradition. Stainless steel, self-winding mechanical movement, blue soleil finishing, alligator or stainless straps ... these are just a few of the hallmarks of another soon-to-be classic collection. tiffany.ca

LIKE A LOCAL

read

Insider knowledge is the new travel currency. Anyone can Google a listicle of the highest-rated restaurants and swankiest boutique hotels. But unlike such shallow online content, nothing transports the traveller down the rabbit hole quite like a carefully curated book. Two newly updated travel tomes—TASCHEN's Paris and TASCHEN's New York (shown)—are packed with practical and dream-inducing content you can ogle without online distractions that burst blue-sky bubbles. Find the venues and sanctuaries in these cities that locals keep secret. From $42 each, amazon.ca

From left Ring with a 23.03-carat tanzanite in 18-karat gold with diamonds (price on request); necklace of South Sea golden cultured pearls with a clasp of tanzanites and 18 karat gold (price on request); Tiffany CT60 Chronograph in stainless steel, 42 mm, self-winding mechanical movement with a blue soleil dial on a blue alligator strap, $8,500 CAD.

oceanic inspiration

ultra-soft + super-slim

EDITOR'S PICK

SLIM AND SEXY

gear

Bulging pockets are never in fashion, but being sans device is hardly an option. Dutch company Mujjo® has fashioned a compact case made from super-soft leather for your iPhone 6 and 6 Plus that lets you tote the trifecta of must-haves: ID and ATM and credit cards. Choose from the classic black or tan cases or opt for the elegant and understated shade of grey (shown) from its new Desaturated collection. From $40, www.mujjo.com travel must-have

detailed design