

Romantic Valentine's Day escapes across Canada: From the Fogo Island Inn to the OPUS Vancouver

JIM BYERS, POSTMEDIA NEWS | February 4, 2016 9:25 AM ET
More from Postmedia News

There is no shortage of great places for Canadians to spend Valentine's Day without crossing the border.

VANCOUVER

The OPUS Vancouver hotel is in the hip Yaletown area and offers sexy rooms and a chic downstairs bar. OPUS Vancouver

The OPUS Vancouver hotel is a lively spot in happening Yaletown, with a sleek bar and beautiful people. Suites are colourful, bold and spacious. For dinner, you can't get much prettier — or tastier — than Ancora Waterfront Dining and Patio, tucked under the Granville Bridge with fabulous water views.

hawksworth
communications