

THE MOST UNIQUE PLACES TO STAY IN VANCOUVER

STYLEDEMOCRACY x APRIL 25, 2016

As one of Canada's most populated and ethnically diverse cities, it's not surprising that there's no shortage of amazing places to stay when visiting the bustling city of Vancouver. Whether you prefer modern luxury or the rustic outdoors, Vancouver has options to suit everyone on any budget. We asked Booking.com, the world leader in connecting travellers with the widest choice of incredible places to stay, to scour their vast offerings across the city region and they've shared a list of unique properties that are sure to delight travellers, each offering a truly unique experience in this spectacular BC setting.

Opus Hotel

For anyone seeking something different from a more typical hotel room, the Opus Hotel is for you! Located in prime neighbourhood Yaletown, this award-winning boutique hotel is brimming with personality and flavour. Opus is fully tuned-in to the latest technology and guests will find Telus Optik TVs in their rooms, complimentary iPads to use throughout their stay with pre-loaded music and access to over 2,300 international newspapers, 30 minutes of free world-wide calling from their own phone, and, of course, super high-speed, free WiFi throughout the property. Eco warriors will also be delighted to hear that Opus has a Tesla charging station, free valet parking for “green” cars and use of suspension mountain bikes for all guests.
